Shortly after his re-election he suddenly died. !Nor is the suspicion wanting that he was poisoned. The country has, however, continued to enjoy peace, and enlargement has come to her in many directions. The present chief magistrate, Porfirio Diaz, an active leader in the FrancoMexican war, has displayed many of the qualities of a true and wise statesman. A compulsory system of education has been adopted, and many colleges are sending forth educated young men to bless their country with an increase of knowledge. Should the fickle disposition of the populace permit such a result, the future of Mexico will be resplendent with national glory. Among much instructive information Senor Romero, Mexican Minister to the United States, in his article The Annexation of Mexico, informs us that there are in Mexico at least three millions of able-bodied Mexican laborers whose wages range now from...
