THE LAW OF BLOCKADE (CLASSIC REPRINT) (PAPERBACK)

Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Law of Blockade The right of a nation at war to close the ports of its enemy so as to prevent him securing food or military supplies is as old as war itself. This is known as a blockade. It was practiced by the Greeks and the Romans. It is the complement on sea of operations on land. Cities and forts have always been blockaded by armies, the purpose being to prevent their inhabitants or garrisons from receiving assistance and to force their surrender through exhaustion. A sea blockade aims to accomplish the same purpose on a grander scale. It is directed not against a single fortress or city, but a whole people. National jurisdiction extends to one marine league, or three land miles, beyond the coast line, outside of that the heaving waters are common property: the high seas have been given over, by consent of mankind, to the free use of man, subject only to such restrictions as civilization and experience have proved to be for the general good. In war nations close their barriers. It is a military measure, and he who ignores the warning does so at his peril. For an alien...
